FAMILY OF SIX LEFT HOMELESS IN SUNDAY FIRE

A husband and wife and their four small children escaped in their night clothes early Sunday morning when their home a mile south of Fountaindale along the Valley Road was destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Peiffer and their children, ranging in age from two to six were sleeping at 6:40 o'clock Sunday morning when Mrs. Peiffer awakened and smelled smoke.

She found the wood-burning stove and chimney in normal operation and was about to return to bed when she heard a crackling noise outside. She looked out a window and saw the rear of the five-room, one story frame house ablaze.

Kerosene Drums Explode

She awakened her husband, and the two rushed from the house, carrying the smaller children, the others following just as two kerosene drums stored behind the house exploded.

Fountaindale, Blue Ridge Summit and Fort Ritchie firemen were called to the home near the "Little Pentagon" in Raven Rock Mountain. They were able only to prevent the spread of the fire to nearby buildings.

The family lost everything including some money. Clothes, furniture and Christmas presents that had been purchased for the youngsters were consumed.

A neighbor, Samuel Buhrman, invited the family to his home and firemen and neighbors collected some clothing. The Adams County Red Cross rushed clothing it has on hand to the six homeless people.

The family, late Sunday, went to Waynesboro to the home of Mrs. Peiffer's parents, to remain until they can find a new home.

Loss Is $7,500

Fountaindale Fire Chief Albert Shindledecker, assisted by Fairfield Fire Chief Roger Myers, Sunday afternoon made an investigation of the ruins and reported they could not immediately determine the cause of the blame.

They said the fire apparently started along the outer wall of a wash house attached to the rear of the home and from there spread to the remainder of the structure. "The explosion was

Two American Archbishops Are Elevated To Cardinal By Pope John XXIII Today

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today formally elevated the archbishops of Philadelphia and Boston and 21 other Roman Catholic prelates to the rank of cardinal.

Twenty-three of the 51 other princes of the church, meeting in secret consistory at the Vatican, gave their silent assent to the Pope's action, confirming the choices he had announced Nov. 17.

The pontiff, himself crowned supreme ruler of the church only last month, increased the membership of the Sacred College to 74 and gave the world's half-billion members of the church their broadest representation ever in the high senate body.

Elevation of the new cardinals broke the limit of 70 set for the college by Pope Sixtus V in 1536.

In his address to the Sacred College telling of his choices, the pontiff called particular attention to the persecution of Catholics by the Communist regime in China. Missionaries have been expelled and many archbishops and bishops, "full of zeal and courage, are in prison, or restricted or impeded in the free exercise of their pastoral ministry," he said.

"The clergy and faithful have become the target of blandishments, menaces, physical and moral tortures," the Pope continued, in order to force them "to break the bond of obedience and love which links them with the See of Peter."

"Unfortunately," he went on, "we have to declare with sorrow that there are not wanting some who, fearing the orders of men more than the sacred judgment of God, have so far yielded to the commands of persecutors as to accept sacrilegious episcopal consecration from which no power of jurisdiction can be derived since it was conferred without the mandate of the Holy See."

Adjoining building lots were sold as another parcel and brought $720. They were bought by Clyde R. Sell, Biglerville R. 1. The other piece of real estate was a large unimproved lot along the north side of Chambersburg St. in Arendtsville. It was bought by Wilbur Sites, Fairfield, for $400.

The 15 shares of Arendtsville National Bank stock were sold in several lots and brought from $56.50 to $58 per share. The par value of the shares is $10. Other persons property also sold well. A table brought $140 and chairs sold at from $25 to $40. A small mirror brought $40 and a coffee mill $19. A doughtray brought $17 and a vinegar cruet, $20. A 1955 Pontiac car brought $1,650. Charles and Warren Bushey were the clerks and Bulleit and Bulleit, the attorneys.

COLD WEATHER SLOWS ACTION ON NEW DUMP

Freezing weather is holding up solution of Gettysburg's garbage disposal problems.

The state has given the town until February 24 before it must close its dump in Cumberland Twp., just off the Littestown Rd.

The extension of time was granted November 24 when Councilman Harold Ecker, head of the health committee, wrote to the state telling of the difficulties being encountered in seeking a replacement for the present open dump. A three-month extension of the date of closing the dump was given from that date, although the borough was not immediately notified that the extension had been granted.

Hope For Early Solution

December 1 had originally been set by the state as the time that present open dump must be closed. When arrangements are finally made for the operation of a landfill disposal system, the present dump, according to law, will have to be covered with earth and a rat killer placed in it to destroy the rodent population there.

Ecker said today that two sites tested by the Gettysburg Development and Landfill Co. have proven unsatisfactory because of the closeness of the water table to the surface.

At the present time, he said, the frozen condition of the earth is preventing testing of other potential sites for the landfill.

At the last council meeting Ecker said he hoped the new landfill disposal system will be in operation by January 1.

Given Two Years In Jail For Fatal Shooting Of Friend On Hunting Trip Last August 3rd

Howard Henry Sandoe, 27, Biglerville R. 1, was sentenced by the Adams County court this morning to two years in the Adams County jail for fatally injuring his friend, Robert Mack Powell, 30, Biglerville R. D., during an illegal hunting expedition on August 3.

Sandoe has entered a plea of guilty to the charge of shooting a human being in mistake for game brought against him by Game Protector John R. Spahr following the fatal incident in Menallen Twp. at 6:45 o'clock on Sunday evening, August 3.

Powell had been visiting at Sandoe's home and the two men went hunting deer in an oats field on the farm of Charles Glenn Naylor, Biglerville R. 1, 4.5 miles north of Arendtsville.

Must Pay $500

Game law officials who investigated said, Powell, a veteran of World War II and the Korean War, was wearing an army shirt. Powell was 140 yards from Sandoe and close to a woods. Sandoe is believed to have seen the tan of Powell's shirt against the woods, believed it to be a deer and fired. He realized his mistake a few seconds later when Powell cried out and fell. Sandoe placed a raincoat over Powell, then returned to his home a mile away and summoned aid. Powell died about two hours after the accident, after having been removed to the Warner Hospital. The shot had fragmented two ribs, ruptured the diaphragm, stomach, and spleen and bruised the heart, left lung and stomach.

Attorney S. M. Raffensperger represented Sandoe when he appeared for sentence this morning and reminded the court that throughout Sandoe had been "most willing and helpful" in the investigation of the incident. Sandoe did not speak.

In addition to the two years in jail, the court also directed that Sandoe pay $500 to the "representatives of the deceased," and directed that for a ten-year period Sandoe will not be permitted to hunt in Pennsylvania "with or without a license."

Large Crowds Enjoy College Choir Concerts

Prominent among the observances that herald the Christmas season are those that take place at the colleges of the country. Whatever the form — festivals, "Hanging of the Greens" or concerts — they are powerful manifestations of the spiritual depth of Christian youth, Coming as they do, virtually on the eve of the holiday that is accorded almost universal recogniton, those observances on thousands of campuses reflect "Good Will Toward Men" — which is the essence of Christmas and the requisite for "Peace on Earth."

"Attest Friendship"

At Gettysburg College, the Christmas season is officially observed by the concert of its famous A Cappella Choir. This concert has become one of the fine traditions of this venerable institution that has educated youth and served the nation 127 years. Through its concert, the choir actually becomes the student body, the faculty and the administration, for the spirit and the beautiful perfecton of its performance expresses clearly the good will each group holds for the others. And because this particular concert sparks the spiritual richness with which Gettysburg College and all its component parts are perpetually endowed, it welds all campus groups of this proud and vigorous institution, including itself, into the oneness that become

Included in this family circle are the people of Gettysburg and of Adams County to whom this concert affords the privilege and the opportunity to attest their friendship for and their support of Gettysburg College and its high purposes.

And so, Saturday and Sunday night, the Spirit that came to life in the Manger in Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago manifested itself in historic Gettysburg and Adams County in the beauty of the inspired voices of these young people, under the spell of which the college and community families will rededicate themselves to continued friendship and unity in the pursuit of their mutual goals of service to mankind.

The Christmas concert of the Gettysburg College Choir in purity of spirit and beauty of song heralds the joyousness that Christmas stirs in the soul of mankind. It proclaims with powerful vigor the spiritual theme "Good Will Toward Men." It is the clarion call to "Come All Ye Faithful."

It was a proud privilege for The Gettysburg Times to sponsor again, over the countywide facilities of WGET, the annual Christmas concert of the Gettysburg College Choir, directed by its founder — Professor Parker B. Wagnild, of the college faculty.

Capacity Audiences

Capacity audiences attended the annual concerts Saturday and Sunday evenings in Christ Chapel. Dr. Harold Dunkelberger narrated portions of the Christmas Story that were interspersed with various music.

Miss Lois Kadel opened the program with an organ prelude consisting of "Offertory on Two Christmas Hymns," Guilmani; "Greensleeves," Purvis, and "Christmas Pastorale," Dinelli. The audience joined with the choir to sing the processional hymn, "Come Hither Ye Faithful." Miss Ann Holcombe, harpist, played "I Wonder as I Wander."

The choir sang "Our Father," Gretchaninoff; "The Desert Shall Blossom," P. Christiansen; "O Come, O Come Emmanuel," Plain Song; "Beautiful Sky," Danish Carol; "Born a Child in Bethlehem," Peter Warlock; "Joyous Christmas," Norwegian Carol; "While Angels Sing," Mexican Carol; "Alleluia," German Melody; and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Two Soloists

Miss Florence Duckworth sang "Rejoice Ye Daughter of Zion." Miss Holcombe accompanied Miss Marlene McIntyre, who sang "Joseph Dearest Joseph Mine," and David Greenlund who sang "Jesu Bambino." Miss Delores J. Little soloed a part in the choir's singing of "Silent Night."

The program closed with the audience and choir singing "Joy to the World."

Trumpeteers who played carols in front of the chapel prior to the program were Robert Lesher, Richard Rochefeller, William Bear, Robert Gatley, Guy Edmiston and Virginia Kressman.

And, thus, with this beautiful concert of the College Choir, Christmas comes to the campus, to Gettysburg and all of Adams County and adjacent areas. It comes in all of its traditional and spiritual richness, on the wings of sacred song, and the retelling of the Christmas story.

For the thousands of residents of Gettysburg, Adams County and the adjacent areas whom it is the privilege of The Times to serve daily, The Gettysburg Times expresses deep appreciation to the College Choir for another impressively beautiful Christmas concert that again, so fittingly, sets the Christmas theme of "Good Will Toward Men" in the hearts of everyone.

Extensive Program

By providing an opportunity for young men and women of many nationalities to live, study and travel in another country for one year on Rotary Foundation Fellowships, these grants are intended to promote international understanding, one of the principal Rotary objectives. Since the fellowships program was initiated in 1947, 1,070 graduates from 65 countries have studied in 43 countries on grants averaging $2,600. This year's awards bring the total number of fellowships to 1,191 and the total grants to more than $3 000,000.

A unique feature of the Rotary Fellowships program is that, with more than 10,000 Rotary clubs in 111 countries throughout the world, each student is in direct contact with Rotarians and their families in the country where he studies. Chosen from applicants sponsored by the Rotary clubs in their home towns, the Rotary Fellows are selected for their high scholastic standing, leadership qualities, interest in world affairs, and ability to make friends easily. They must be between 20 and 29 years of age, hold a college or university degree and know the language of the country in which they will study.

then rammed a police car and escaped by running into a woods. On a second "go around" about a month later he also led police a merry chase and finally was captured after he had abandoned his car and ran into a woods near Hunterstown. The 43 days were various jail sentences imposed as a result of the speeding, and other charges brought in connection with the chases. Elmer J. Herr, was found innocent of a charge of turning into a direct line of traffic following a hearing before the court. Cars of Herr and Delbert V. Keller, Hanover, collided near the Munda Fruit Farm between Abbottstown and Hanover on August 23. Herr, according to the prosecution, swung at least partially off the highway and then turned back to make a turn at the fruit farm. The court observed that the entrance to the fruit farm, "is used by people to turn around" and added that, with a hill at that spot, "it is very dangerous." Costs were placed on the county.

"CONSIDERATION"

Those who are considerate . . . of those who round them dwell . . . possess a priceless attribute . . . that helps them to excel . . . a person stands above the rest . . . when he is good and kind . . . because he paves the way with love . . . and love brings peace of mind . . . if people everywhere would have . . . regard for those they meet . . . I am quite sure life's bitter weeds . . . would suddenly turn sweet . . . consideration doesn't cost . . . a single cent to own . . . and those who have it occupy . . . a special kind of throne . . . yes, most folks seem to lack it . . . it's sad, but very true . . . I hope that this does not apply . . . to anyone like you.

WAYNESBORO MUST REBUILD NEW VARSITY

(Editor's Note — This is the ninth and last in a series of articles dealing with 1959 South Penn Conference basketball prospects.)

By JESS GARBER
Waynesboro Record Herald

WAYNESBORO—Take four of five starters off any basketball team and you have handed the coach a mammoth rebuilding job. If those four included an All-State player like Russ Hopewell, the coach's job is even more challenging.

That is what happened to George H. Gottshall, who coached the 1957-58 Waynesboro High Indians to an 18-4 record, second best in the South Penn.

Senior letterman Tuck Shade, second highest scorer on last year club, heads the list of senior holdovers and juniors up from last year's jayvee club

A six-footer, Shade averaged 14.4 points per game and was third high man in the rebound department. He was the team's most accurate man at the foul line, canning 66 of 93 attempts, and only trailed Hopewell in field goal accuracy as he made 42.6 per cent of his tries.

Other Prospects

Other seniors include: Letterman Kenny Keller, sixth man on last year's club who scored 53 points while playing in slightly more than half the quarters and is a good rebounder despite 5-10 height; Mike Crist, 6-1, shows possibilities of becoming a consistent scorer and rebounder; as Hopewell's understudy he saw little service; Bill Weagly, a 5-7 letterman who also saw only limited service, and Allen Glass, 5-8, will handle backcourt duties. Glass played little but came along at a fast pace as both a ball handler and shooter at the end of the season.

Joe Mentzer, 6-4, is the tallest man on the club but lacks experience. With improvement he could break into the lineup late in the season.

Rounding out the squad are six juniors moving up from Coach George O'Brien's jayvees who posted only a 6-14 record but who won four of their last five games.

Twins, Bob and Dick Stoops, are a pair of 5-10 hustlers who are strong rebounders. Bob has the edge on Dick as he was second high scorer on the jayvee outfit.

Top scorer on that club was Brian Sachs with a 12.3 average. Other juniors up from the jayvees are Steve Martz, Art Guyer and Paul Shockey.

Lacks Height

The club lacks height, and Gottshall hopes speed and shooting accuracy can offset the deficit. Most of all, it lacks Hopewell, and Gottshall watches practice daily for signs that someone will develop into leaders in the scoring, rebounding, defensive and assist departments, where Hopewell was the leader.

The schedule: December 9, South Hagerstown, 52 - 38; 12, Scotland, 51-29; 15, at North Hagerstown; 19, at Hanover; 23 Shippensburg; 30, North Hagerstown.

January 2, Middletown; 6, at Gettysburg; 9, Chambersburg; 13, at Mechanicsburg; 16, Hershey; 20, at Carlisle; 27, Hanover; 30, at Shippensburg.

February 3, at South Hagerstown; 6, at Middletown; 10, Gettysburg; 13, at Chambersburg; 17, Mechanicsburg; 20, at Hershey; 24, Carlisle.

She carried a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom, covered with white and red Mamie carnations outlined in white carnations, white snowberries, sprigs of holly, and streamers.

Miss Mary Ann Snyder, Harrisburg, was maid of honor. The bride's mother wore a red and black street length dress with black accessories and white carnation corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a royal blue street length dress with black accessories and white carnation corsage.

The right leg of Mr. Frederick Snyder was taken off near the hip joint by Dr. Kinser of Littlestown, assisted by Dr. Dorsey, of this place and Dr. Lilly, of McSherrystown; present also were Drs. Bishop and Stonesifer, of Littlestown, who lent a hand. A malignant cancerous affliction of the knee joint threatened an early destruction of life and the alternative of a resort to the knife alone remained. The amputation was skillfully and speedily performed, reflecting credit to all concerned.

The patient was under the influence of chloroform during the operation, altogether unconscious of pain throughout; and when left on Wednesday evening, was as comfortable as could have been expected under the circumstances.

Today's Talk

ON AWAKENING OTHERS

We can do no greater kindness to others than to awaken in them a desire to do something worthy. Few of us know our capacity for good. Often it takes an emergency to awaken us to our ability to do something useful or unusual.

I like to go into a large library reading room, such as most of our big cities have, and there note the interest and earnestness of young readers quietly improving their minds, fascinated by the things that they read, much of it a revelation to most. I recall the small library in the town where I once lived, and how I looked forward with such hopes and enthusiasm to the latest volumes in which I was interested.

I have in mind the instance of several of my associates at that early stage, in which I helped to inspire an interest in books. Many of them had never read a book. I was proud to introduce my love of certain ones to others, and then watch the increasing interest in many that I suggested. This joy has followed me all my life.

The great thing in life, anyway, is to awaken in others that sleeping desire for knowledge and new information. Once cultivated it keeps growing year after year. There is no other occupation so interesting, so revealing, and such a continuation of fascinating joy as that found between the covers of many books. Once the habit of reading has been established it will never leave one. We must not forget that books have played a big part in the history of the world!

Books are silent people talking to you. Their influence never dies. Many of these books grow more precious with the years. They are silent friends who will never desert you!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Open Fireplace"

Just Folks

SUPPOSE

Let us suppose, as it's easy to do,
That that poor little fellow was yours;
That he stood in the cold till his fingers were blue
And spent most of his time out of doors;
And let us suppose, while we're at it, that he Expected Old Santa to come
As he had been told, if a good boy he'd be,
And leave him a horn and a drum;
How would you feel, if you knew that the day
Would take all the faith of that youngster away?

Or let us suppose that you're dead and your wife
And your babies are struggling behind;
That with you went all of their comforts of life,
And the world hadn't been very kind;
And your babies are looking for Santa to come,
While the heart of your wife's being torn
For the want of a doll or a horn or a drum!
Suppose you could see Christmas morn
The sadness and gloom of the ones that you love!
Do you think you could rest very happy above?

Well, somebody's boy is out freezing today,
And somebody's widow's in tears;
And somewhere are hearts that you ought to make gay
When the time for old Santa appears.
And somewhere are homes that are waiting for you
To brighten and cheer with your love
As you would expect some one's father to do
If you had been taken above.
Won't you seek out the orphan who dwells on your way
And bring back his smiles on the glad Christmas Day?

NATO TURNS TO DISPUTES IN ITS OWN RANKS

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

PARIS (AP)—Reassured that the Western Big Three will stand fast against Soviet pressure on West Berlin, the North Atlantic Allies turned today to critical disputes within the alliance.

The agreement Sunday on Berlin by the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States led off a week of formal conferences vital to Western Europe's future.

A communique said the Big Three foreign ministers "reaffirmed the determination of their governments to maintain their position and their rights with respect to Berlin, including the right of free access."

Reject Red Proposal

The statement rejected the Soviet proposal to give the East German Communist regime control of Allied traffic with West Berlin. In effect, the ministers ruled out suggestions that the West deal with the East Germans as agents of the Russians.

The three ministers — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd — gave no indication of what counterproposals they would make in reply to the Soviet note of Nov. 27.

But they said they were agreed on the basic issues to be covered in their replies. They said they would consult with the other NATO allies in the NATO Council meeting beginning Tuesday and then would formulate their notes to the Soviets.

Leaves Only Force

Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the Soviet note said the Soviets were withdrawing from the four-power occupation of Berlin. He proposed that West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, be made a demilitarized free city. The Russians said regardless of what was worked out for West Berlin, they were giving the East Germans control of all communications within the city in six months.

The Western refusal to deal with the East Germans apparently left no alternative but force to insure access to the city if the Russians go ahead with the transfer of communication controls. The Russians have said they would constitute aggression against East Germany and that Soviet troops would go to the satellite regime's aid in accordance with the Warsaw Pact.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano joined in the later half of the three-hour conference at the Foreign Office. West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt also spent half an hour in the meeting, giving his views to the foreign ministers. Dulles told him after the meeting, "You don't need to be worried."

Trade Policies Up

Today the Allies turned to trade and economic policy with a meeting of the 17-nation Organization for European Economic Cooperation. The OEEC includes all European members of the Atlantic Pact plus such neutral countries as Sweden, Switzerland and Austria.

The French recently rejected a British proposal to associate all 17 OEEC members in a free trade area. The British still are bitter over the French action, and their officals say that reprisals may have to be taken to defend the British economy. The Scandinavians and some other nations are saying the same.

Also On Agenda

Other items to be taken up during the meetings this week includ

1. France's determination for a bigger voice in the Atlantic Alliance.
2. Continental hesitation to accept American nuclear rocket bases.
3. The dangerous situation in Cyprus.
4. The fishing war in the North Atlantic, involving Icelandic and British ships.

Seminary Grad's Church To Be On TV Christmas Eve

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A Christmas Eve service will be telecast from a Lutheran church in the nation's capital by a major television network, it was announced here.

Officials of the American Broadcasting Company said that the Lutheran Church of the Reformation's Christmas Eve service has been selected for an hour and fifteen minutes live telecast on December 24. The program is to begin at 10:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Dr. Lawrence D. Folkemer, pastor of Reformation, a congregation of the United Lutheran Church in America, said that "the candlelight service will proclaim the Christmas message through music and Biblical interludes." Dr. Folkemer is a graduate of Gettysburg College in the class of 1937 and of the seminary here.

To Give Meditation

"This will be the first time, as far as I know," he added, that the first setting of the new Lutheran liturgy has ever been used on a nation-wide televsion hookup."

Dr. Folkemer will deliver the Christmas meditation and narrate the Biblical story. The Rev. J. Paul Seltzer, assistant pastor, will serve as liturgist.

Network officials at ABC said that this may be the first Christmas Eve service telecast from a Lutheran church over any network. For the past five years, the Christmas Eve service from the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City has been shown over the ABC network.

Preceding the service, children of the church will sing carols by the creche in front of the church, which is located less than two blocks from the Capitol. Then a brass ensemble of the U.S. Marine band will play on the church steps.

The choir at Reformation has been heard throughout the nation and in Canada on radio for the past six years by recordings made with the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches, and also has made recordings on the Columbia Masterwork label.

Bill Of Rights Went Into Effect 167 Years Ago Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bill of Rights — the first 10 amendments to the Constitution — went into effect 167 years ago today.

If not only guaranteed certain rights and freedoms but was the cornerstone for amendments added to the Constitution later.

On this anniversary Americans, priding themselves on the principles of their democratic society, can ask themselves individually:

1. Do I really believe in the rights and freedoms—for all men—guaranteed by the Constitution?

2. Or is it only freedom for me I believe in—including freedom to deprive others of it when I disagree with them or dislike them?

Here are some rights and freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights:

Many Freedoms

Freedom of speech, religion and the press; freedom from being placed on trial twice for the same offense; freedom from being compelled to testify against yourself in a criminal case; the right to trial by jury; the right to confront a witness against you.

Even the framers of the Constitution did not believe in equal freedom for all men living under their democratic society. They put no ban on slavery.

That did not come till later, many decades later, after great changes in American thinking. The same with the right of all Americans — born or naturalized —to vote.

Test Your Devotion

By asking yourself a few questions, you can test your devotion to the principle of equal rights and freedom for all men.

Say you are a member of a certain religious faith:

Would you, if you could, deny to any or all other religious groups and sects, and atheists, the right to say or write publicly what they think?

If you are an atheist, would you deny that right to people of religious beliefs?

You cherish the right to vote: Would you deny that same right to some other individual or group —Negroes, for instance—because you dislike them or fear their eventual political power?

No Law Against Reds

You may hate communism but there is no law against being a Communist.

Would you, who prize freedom of the spoken and written word, deny a Communist the right to say in public what he thinks, even though it is critical of the American government?

The Constitution's Fifth Amendment guarantees a man the right to refuse to answer a question which he thinks might incriminate him.

Would you deny a man—any man, ranging from a ganster to a Communist—the use of the Fifth Amendment to avoid saying something which might incriminate him?

One Basic Question

All the questions come down to this basic one:

Is any man ever free or secure under his constitutional guarantees if another man can be deprived of them because of mass hysteria, group pressure or things like racial or religious prejudice?

If it happens to one man today, tomorrow it can happen to the man who did it to him, since all that is needed is a change in majorities, emotions or group attitudes.

ANXIOUS EYES WATCH WALL STREET GAINS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There are some anxious eyes on business profits today in Wall Street.

The stock market, always sensitive to corporate earnings, is more so just now because the bulls have bid up prices to a point that will call for a steep climb in net income after taxes by many firms before their profits are in line with the optimism the bulls have underwritten.

The profit trend is on the upgrade at year end after a sharp drop in the first months of 1958. What Wall Street is scanning the reports to find is the strength of the trend and the chances of its continuing.

Reports Coming In

First of the annual profit and loss reports are coming in now from those companies whose fiscal year ends before the calendar year. Added to these are a flock of estimates by corporate executives of what 1958 earnings should be when the books are finally closed in coming weeks. And there are the many hopeful ones who are saying: just wait until next year.

From the early reports Wall Street is getting a hint at least as how 1958 profits will stack up with 1957's after all the annual reports are in a couple of months from now.

Some 56 corporations already have reported for their fiscal years. Of these 25 show gains in net income over the figures for the previous year, while 31 show declines. There are three reporting net losses this year, while the year before there were two.

Weighted By Two

Combind the 56 made $182,686,639, compared with $171,320,254 in the previous year, for an increase of 6.6 per cent.

But the results are weighted heavily by striking gains this year by two of the 56 companies.

American Motors reports profits of 26 million dollars this year, against a loss the year before of 11¾ million dollars.

And Minute Maid Corp. puts profits this year 4½ million dollars, while reporting a loss of 2½ million dollars the previous year. In both cases carryover tax credits sweeten the 1958 showings.

Mt. St. Mary's Cops 2nd Win On New York Trip Edging Adelphi 68-62

Mt. St. Mary's pulled its basketball record to 3-3 Sunday afternoon when it spurted in the closing minute of play to defeat Adelphi 68-62 in the first game of a doubleheader at Hofstra College, Hempstead, Long Island. Hofstra nipped Loyola of Baltimore in the second game 71-52.

Bert Sheing, Mount veteran, was the hero of the late drive, scoring 10 of the final points for Jim Phelan's dribblers. Four of his points came on successive free throws in the last 36 seconds of play.

The game was close throughout although the Mount led most of the way.

Adelphi Ties Count

Adelphi caught up at 60-60 with 45 seconds remaining. Sheing and Dennis Barry dropped in Mount goals to make it 64-60 but Frank Quarto retaliated with a goal for the Panthers. Sheing then wrapped up the outcome with four straight conversions.

Superb foul shooting by the Mount was a big factor in the victory. They landed 26 of 31 free tosses. Fine work off the boards by Jerry Bohlinger and Barry was another key factor.

Sheing regained his shooting eye and dropped in 22 points while Ernie Cage, the smooth freshman, followed with 16. Quarto paced Adelphi with 19 and was backed up by 10-point efforts on the part of Bob Popco and Art Benoit.

Long Layoff

The Mountaineers will now be idle until Wednesday, January 7, when they play at Roanoke in a Mason-Dixon Conference game.

SYRACUSE NEARING TOP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sizzling Syracuse Nationals certainly are extremists in the National Basketball Assn. The Nats lost eight straight only to take seven victories in a row.

The Nats now are within two games of co-leaders Boston and New York in the Eastern Divison race after defeating the Detroit Pistons 101-95 in a nationally televised game Sunday.

Saturday night, Syracuse turned back the Philadelphia Warriors 115-100. The loss was Philadelphia's fifth straight and eighth in nine games.

First Place Tie

In Sunday's other game, the New York Knicks moved into a first place tie with the idle Boston Celtics by shading the Minneapolis Lakers 100-99. The Knicks bowed to the St. Louis Hawks, Western leaders, 108-94 in Saturday night game.

Larry Costello and Dolph Shayes each netted 23 points as Syracuse broke Detroit's winning streak at four and pushed the runner-up Pistons three games behind St. Louis.

A three-point play by Richie Guerin with 57 seconds left gave New York its squeaker over the Lakers, who suffered their fourth defeat in a row. Guerin topped the New Yorkers with 25 points and Ken Sears contributed 24.

Will Honor Hemus At Dinner Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Little Solly Hemus, new St. Louis Cardinals manager known equally well as a hustling second baseman who helped win Houston the Dixie championship in 1947, gets a testimonial dinner tonight.

A Houston winter resident, Hemus succeeded Fred Hutchinson at the St. Louis helm. He joined the Texas League Houston Buffs in 1947 after being cast off by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Hemus went up to St. Louis in 1950 by way of Columbus. The Cards traded him to Philadelphia in 1956.

Cardinals slugger Stan Musial will lead a St. Louis delegation.

NAVY MATMEN WIN TWO MEETS FROM BULLETS

Gettysburg College's varsity and freshman wrestling teams bowed to powerful Navy matmen at Annapolis on Saturday. Jack Ridinger's varsity was blanked 34-0 while the freshmen lost 33-5. It was the second setback for squads.

In the varsity affair the Midshipmen won four falls, three decisions and another by default. Paul Nonas, Bullet 167-pounder, put up the best showing for the Bullets in losing a 1-0 decision to George Brainerd.

Harold Chelgren, 167, captain of the Bullet freshmen, averted a shutout for the yearlings by pinning Pete Nelson in 58 seconds.

The Bullet varsity will be idle until January 7 when it meets Dickinson at Carlisle. The freshmen next meet the F. and M. frosh here on January 17.

CHARLES TOWN OPENS DEC. 18

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Horse racing returns to this area on Thursday with the opening of the Charles Town race track's 44-day silver jubilee winter meeting from Thursday, December 18, through February 7.

As at last summer's 75-day session, the track will be operated again by Baltimore sportsmen Ben and Herman Cohen and Louis Pondfield under a lease arrangement with Mrs. Helen E. Boyle, wife of the late Albert J. Boyle, who built the track in 1933 and operated it until his death in 1957.

Featuring a daily purse distribution of $12,000 for an eight race card starting at 1 p.m., an abundance of quality horses is available from all racing centers surrounding the picturesque Shenandoah Valley plant. A score of well known jockeys are remaining in action from the Maryland circuit until the major Maryland season resumes at Bowie in February.

Physically, the Charles Town track has undergone several improvements including the resurfacing of the racing strip, installation of new, large windows in the clubhouse box seat area for a much better view of the racing; a new entrance from the clubhouse dining room to the mutuel windows.

Charles Town is the only track that has a completely enclosed and heated clubhouse. All grandstand interiors are heated.

CALHOUN FIGHTS JONES TONIGHT

CLEVELAND (AP)—When Rory Calhoun battles Ralph (Tiger) Jones in a 10-round middleweight scrap tonight, both fighters will be working for a match with a ringside spectator—Carmen Basilio.

Basilio, former welterweight and middleweight champion, has been offered $25,000 to meet the winner of the Calhoun-Jones fight.

The offer came from Cleveland promoter Larry Atkins, who promoted tonight's charity affair sponsored by the Cleveland News Toyshop Fund for needy children.

The 24-year-old Calhoun from White Plains, N.Y., is a 7-5 favorite although Jones whipped him last month in a free-swinging match at Madison Square Garden. The 30-year-old Jones won a unanimous decision when the referee took a round away from Calhoun for a low blow.

Unbeaten Mules Here Tonight; Frosh Face YJC

Another undefeated basketball team makes its appearance here tonight when Muhlenburg (4-0) meets the Gettysburg College cagers (1-4) in the pre-holiday home windup for Bob Hulton's Bullets.

The Mules have won over Lebanon Valley, Scranton, Moravian and Albright by comfortable margins. One of the main reasons for Muhlenberg's fine start is Steve Matell 5-10, a senior who was a reservist in his sophomore and junior years. He is the top scorer for the Mules. Veterans Mel Kessler 6-5 and Dick Sekunda 6-5 are right behind him in scoring. Don Robins 6-7 combines with Kessler and Sekunda to give Muhlenberg a strong rebounding outfit.

At 6:45 the Gettysburg Freshmen (2-2) take on the strong York Junior College squad.

Tuesday evening the Bullet varsity concludes its pre-holiday schedule against Penn State University at University Park.

FROM GOAT TO TEAM HERO IN JUST 6 WEEKS

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Summerall, a pink-cheeked, good natured pro football player for the New York Giants, managed to jump from team goat to team hero in the space of six weeks.

He's done it with a blunt-edged size 10½ E kickng shoe, a hunk of black leather that sends footballs spinning toward crossbars in the National Football League.

His skill could mean several thousand dollars to each of his teammates.

Sunday, in snow-dusted Yankee Stadium, Summerall kicked a 49-yard field goal with two minutes, seven seconds left that beat the Cleveland Browns 13-10. It means the same two teams meet in a playoff for the Eastern title next Sunday.

Kicks 9 Out Of 13

The Giants have won two games outright with Summerall's minute kicks. He also boosted the three-pointer that provided the margin of victory in another.

In six weeks, beginning with the Giants' 24-21 upset of previously unbeaten Baltimore, Nov. 9, Summerall has kicked nine field goals in 13 attempts.

Before that, he'd managed only three in 10 attempts. He'd blown two conversions.

"I've been lousy," Summerall said at that time.

The 6-4, 230-pound, 28-year-old veteran only two minutes before had missed a relatively easy attempt from the 33 in Sunday's game.

"Kicked Straight Ahead"

"When I blew it," Summerall said, "I'd have liked to have gone anywhere but back to that bench. But you know, four or five of the guys came right up and told me to forget it, that they'd get me another chance.

"I never thought I'd get to try again," he said. "It's wonderful, wonderful, wonderful.

"On the one I missed, I figured it would fade from left a bit to right. It went straight as an arrow.

"On the last one, I just kicked straight ahead. I knew I had to hit it good since I was at about midfield. I did"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consistency won the 1958 National Football League passing title for Eddie Le Baron.

The sawed-off Washington Redskins' tosser finished the regular season Sunday with one of the smallest yardage totals by air among NFL quarterbacks.

But he beat 'em all for average gain with an unofficial 9.41 yards on 79 completions in 145 attempts. And that's the thing that paid off.

7 Of 17 On Sunday

"I'll bet you hear some more hollering to change the system," Le Baron said.

Le Baron is perfectly satisfied with the system of ranking passers by average gain for toss rather than total yardage.

Le Baron connected on 7 of 17 for 164 yards Sunday, including one pass for 71 yards to Bill Anderson. That bomb capped the Redskins' 20-0 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

One More Year

Final official statistics haven't been compiled, but Le Baron's total overhead yardage of 1,365 is likely to be exceeded by all but half a dozen of the NFL's top 15 passers. He has thrown less frequently than any of them since the Redskins concentrated on the rush rather than the pass.

Next season probably will be Le Baron's last in pro football.

"That's the way I feel now," the former College of the Pacific star said. He wants to get started on his law career.

He's near the head of his class at George Washington Law School.

Army Receives Lambert Trophy

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army placed its seventh Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern major college football supremacy, in its trophy case today.

Brig. Gen. Gerald Counts, Dean of Academics, accepted the trophy in New York Sunday. The Army team, which had an 8-0-1 1958 record, was represented by Capt. Pete Dawkins, All-America halfback. Navy won the award last year.

The University of Buffalo received the second annual Lambert Cup as Eastern small college gridiron king. This cup was won by Lehigh in 1957.

GIANTS TIE BROWNS FOR EAST TITLE

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A field goal through the snow by a fellow who wasn't expected to play . . . the keen eyes of a battleworn Texan . . . and what everybody thought was a boner by football's master coach.

They added up today to a bonus for National Football League fans, next Sunday's playoff between the plucky New York Giants and the mighty Cleveland Browns for the Eastern Conference championship.

The two arch hrivals tied for the regular season championship with 93 records Sunday as Texan Kyle Rote set up a touchdown with 10 minutes left, and hobbled Pat Summerall booted a 49yard field goal with two minutes remaining to give New York a 1310 victory. A tie would have given Cleveland the title.

Playoff Next Sunday

The winner of next Sunday's playoff will play host to the Western champion Baltimore Colts Dec. 28 in the pro title game.

The other NFL clubs have completed their seasons. Baltimore lost 21-12 to San Francisco Sunday.

Los Angeles and the Chicago Bears tied for second in the West with 84 marks as the Rams closed out with a 34-20 decision over Green Bay and the Bears defeate dthe Detroit Lions 21-16. Washington blanked Philadelphia 20-0 in Sunday's other game. Pittsburgh, No. 3 in the East, finished Saturday with a 38-21 victory over the Chicago Cards.

It's doubtful the Giants would be still alive, if it hahdn't been for a call by Paul Brown, the coach of pro football's greatest organization.

Fake Kick Play

Leading 10-8 midway in the third period, the Browns drove to the New York 13 behind the great Jimmy Brown—who gained 148 yards in 26 rushes. With fourth down and five to go, Lou (The Toe) Groza stepped back to the 20 for his fourth field goal try of the game. He had missed twice, hit once—from the 22.

But instead of kicking, Brown had called for a fake. Bobby Freeman took the snap from center, jumped up and took off around left end. He ran full into Giants' linebacker Harland Svare, who threw him for an eightyard loss.

After an exchange of kicks and a Milt Plum fumble, the Giants' Frank Gifford fired a 39-yard pass to Rote to the Cleveland 6 on a play Rote called when he spotted a weakness in the Browns' pass defense. A running play lost a yard before Gifford passed to Bob Schnelker in the end zone for a touchdown. Summerall's conversion made it 10-10.

Goal Through Snow

Four minutes later, the Giants drove from their 30 to Cleveland's 25. On fourth down, and with 4½ minutes remaining, Summerall missed a field goal from the 33. It looked as though the comeback had been nailed, but two minutes later the Browns' Dick Deschaine, soundly rushed by the Giants' defense, got off a wobbly 22-yard kick that went out of bounds on the Cleveland 43.

Three passes went awry before Summerall sent his booming field goal soaring through the snow and over the uprights. Two minutes and seven seconds showed on the clock.

Fans Fight Cops After '49er Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A melee that started in a fight for the goal posts brought a police riot call from Kezar Stadium Sunday after the San Francisco 49ers beat the Baltimore Colts 21-12.

A throng ran to the goal posts and attempted to pull them down. Police attempted to restore order.

A window in the patrol wagon was broken, two policemen were cut by flying fragments of glass and another slugged in the face. Police sent out the riot call that sent 18 radio cars, 20 motorcycle officers, 18 inspectors and six additional patrol wagons to the scene.

But the melee was over about 10 minutes after the call went out and only one man was arrested—for throwing an orange.

HOLIDAY COURT TOURNAMENTS TO OPEN FRIDAY

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

This coming weekend heralds the start of college basketball's holiday tournaments. The spotlight is on the South.

The Kentucky Invitational will be played at Lexington and the Blue Grass Festival at Louisville.

Other tournaments scheduled in the South are the Birmingham (Ala.) Classic and the Citadel Invitational at Charleston, S.C.

Kentucky, the nation's second-ranking team in last week's Associated Press poll, is the host at Lexington. In first-round pairings Friday night the Wildcats meet Ohio State after West Virginia plays Oklahoma State.

Irish Vs. N.C.

Notre Dame takes on North Carolina and Northwestern faces Louisville in the Blue Grass Festival Friday night. At Birmingham it's Alabama vs. Texas A&M and Auburn vs. Wyoming. Florida State plays Miami and Georgia meets The Citadel in the Citadel Invitational.

Kentucky, unbeaten in five games, is home against Maryland tonight. The Wildcats thumped seventh-ranked St. Louis 76-57 Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised game.

Unheralded Virginia stunned fourth-ranked West Virginia 75-72 Saturday, snapping the Mountaineers' winning streak at five.

Cincinnati, the nation's No. 1 team, will be out to keep its record unblemished. The Bearcats play the College of Pacific at home Wednesday and visit St. Louis Saturday.

Third-ranked Kansas State went West over the weekend with favorable results, although the Wildcats had to scrap to beat California 68-65 Friday and San Francisco 53-52 Saturday for a 4-0 record.

Kansas State plays three this week, starting with a game at Brigham Young tonight.

Another surprise, besides West Virginia's reversal was Wisconsin's 56-54 victory over 11th-ranked Notre Dame Saturday. The Badgers had gone 11 games without a victory over a two-season span.

It also was a lost weekend for Kansas, pegged No 7. Jayhawks, lost twice on the West Coast, bowing to UCLA 72-61 Friday and dropping a 68-55 verdict to Southern California Saturday.

Mississippi State, No. 8, was the only other member of the Top 10 to see action Saturday. The Maroons nosed out Murray (Ky.) 63-62 for their fifth consecutive success.

GEORGE BAYER WINS $10,000 GOLF TOURNEY

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) —George Bayer, who seemed destined to go through life without winning a pro golf tournament in the United States, has overcome that jinx.

The longdriving Glen Eagles, Ill., giant is $2,000 richer today as a result of his victory in the $15,000 Sanford Open Tournament Sunday, a victory achieved with a bunch of par busters breathing down his neck. Par was 71.

Bayer had started the final round with a two stroke lead and 204 for his first three rounds. Wes Ellis Jr. of Aldecress, N. J., was in second place.

One-Stroke Advantage

When Bayer finished with a 68 for a 272, he had a one-stroke advantage and Ellis was tied for 10th place, five strokes back. Runnerup was veteran Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., who shot a sizzling 66 with a phenomenal 29 for the last nine holes.

Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N. Y., also had a 29 for the last nine, giving him a 65 round, a 275 total and a tie for fourth place. He was deadlocked with Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C.; Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa.; Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex.; and Jay Hebert of Sanford.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., had a final 67 for a 274 total, good for third place.

In all, 27 players bettered par for their four rounds, with nine more equalling that figure.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

PENN STATE 5 HOSTS BULLETS TUESDAY NIGHT

UNIVERSITY PARK — Penn State (0-2) will open its home basketball program this week with a game against Gettysburg Tuesday night and a contest with Colgate Saturday.

In its first two games of the season, both on the road, the Nittany Lions dropped a 70-54 decision to North Carolina State, and lost to West Virginia, 78-63. Both teams are currently ranked among the top 10 in national polls.

Coach John Egli has named three seniors, a junior and a sophomore as his starting lineup for the Gettysburg contest. Center Bob Edwards and forwards Tom Hancock and Ted Kubista will be the senior operatives. All are 6-5. Junior Wally Colender (6-2) and sophomore Mark DuMars (5-10) will be in the backcourt.

Edwards and DuMars are Penn State's leading scorers through two games, with 28 and 27 points respectively.

The Nittany Lions hold an 18-2 margin over Gettysburg in a series that started in 1901. Penn State won last season's game at Gettysburg, 87-61. The Lions are 25-20 over Colgate, having won both games last year.

PERRY JONES ORDERS TESTS

PERTH, Australia (AP) — U.S. Davis Cup Captain Perry Jones today ordered a series of test matches among his four team members to determine singles assignments for the interzone tennis finals against the Italians this weekend.

Pressure battles under tournament conditions were scheduled to start today, but were postponed until Tuesday at the request of Ham Richardson, America's No. 1 ranked player. Richardson asked for a day off to rest.

Jones said that Richardson will play Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, Tuesday and Peruvian Alex Olmedo will take on Earl Buchholz Jr., 18-year-old member of the team from St. Louis. Both matches will be best two-of-three affairs.

The next day's pairings will be juggled, with Richardson meeting Olmedo and MacKay playing Buchholz.

Jones said the result of the head-to-head matches would not bind him in the selection of singles players.

SYNOPSIS: Esteban found the bottle of gas with which the professor plans to kill the fairies. But the professor trapped him and opened a trap door beneath him. As Esteban falls he tosses the bottle to the professor to keep it from breaking.

CHAPTER TEN
THE MOLE HOLE

Down, down, down went Esteban in a hole that seemed to have no bottom. Faster and faster he went. He thought that when he landed he would surely be crushed.

Suddenly he did land — right on his head! But he wasn't even hurt. For he landed on a bed.

It was a teeny bed with fat, white pillows and a bright red blanket. On a table by the bed stood a tiny lamp glowing brightly.

There was a tiny rocking chair nearby and a wash stand with a tiny wash bowl on it.

On a shelf there were some tiny books. Esteban picked up one of the books. It was called "Digging for Fun."

Esteban shook his head in puzzlement. Could he possibly have gone right through the earth and landed on the other side of the world? But why would people there live in such small houses?

Just then he heard a scraping noise. The scraping grew louder until finally there was a great big thump and a hole was punched right through the wall.

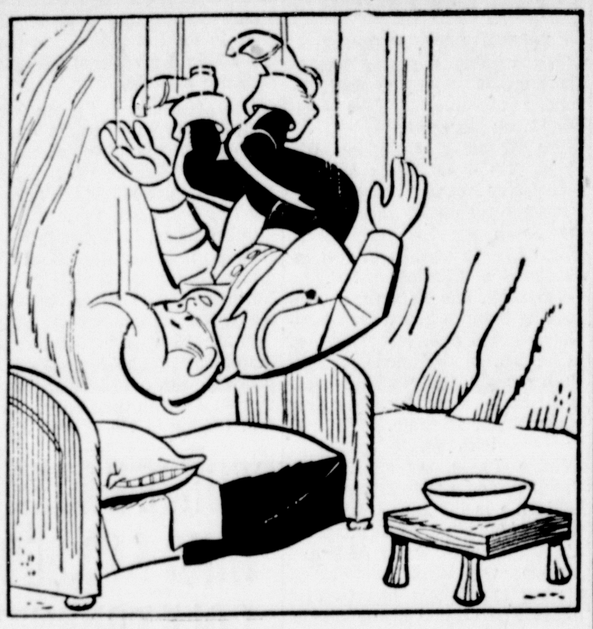
Through the hole bounced a fat little mole with a top hat on his head and a brief case in his paw. Great furry eyebrows hung over his tiny eyes and he wore glasses that were two inches thick.

He peered at Esteban in astonishment. "Gracious! I didn't expect guests!"

Hastily he took off his hat and began to bustle around the room, straightening the bed and dusting the books.

"Just a minute and we'll be cleaned up here. I'm sorry I wasn't here when you arrived, but I only moved in a few days ago and I've been terribly busy on the new roads, you know. Or perhaps you didn't know. Well, anyway, I'm home now and very glad to see you."

At this he stopped chattering and peered at Esteban through his two inch glasses. "By the way, who are you anyway?"



Down, down Esteban fell into a strange weeny room.

Esteban took a big breath. "I'm an elf," he began.

"Good gracious!" said the mole. "You're awfully big for an elf. I don't suppose I've ever seen such a big elf."

"Well," explained Esteban. "I'm not an elf anymore. You see, I was an elf but I did everything wrong and made trouble for everyone so the Queen Fairy took away my wings and I'm a boy now. But I'm going to be an elf again if I'm a good boy."

The mole shook his head in wonder, at such a story. "But, tell me" he asked, "How did you get into my bedroom?"

"The professor tricked me!" cried Esteban. "Now he has the bottle and I'll never be able to get it again!"

The mole took off his glasses and wearily rubbed his eyes. "I wish you'd just start at the beginning and tell me the whole story," he begged.

So Esteban told how Charlotte's mother had been put under a spell by the Hangdog Hag and could never wake again How Charlotte's father, in order to destroy the witch, had made a gas that would kill not only the Hag but all fairies and elves in the world.

"And I must get to Santa Claus for help," finished Esteban. "But how will I ever get there?"

The fat little mole sat in his rocking chair and rocked busily.

By and by, he smiled happily and bounced from the chair.

"The Snuke!" he cried.

"What?" said Esteban.

"The Snuke," said the mole. "The Snuke will get you there!"

SHIPPENSBURG A DARKHORSE FOR SP RACE

(Eighth in a series of articles on prospects of South Penn Basketball League teams)

JOE MURPHY
Shippensburg News-Chronicle

SHIPPENSBURG — The George Kohut-coached Shippensburg Greyhounds will be one of the real "darkhorse" quintets playing in South Penn Conference circles during the 1958-1959 hoop season.

When the Greyhounds journey to Waynesboro for their first conference test Tuesday, Dec. 23, only senior guards Chester Jones and Sheldon VanScyoc, a pair of diminutive five-foot, nine-inch, lettermen, will be sure of starting berths.

Coach Kohut has two other returning lettermen, senior Charles Ramp and Pete Sullivan, back in the fold. Ramp performs at guard and will most likely be a substitute for Jones or VanScyoc.

The Hounds currently have six seniors and four juniors dressing in varsity togs, although 17 lads are taking part in pre-season drills.

The Shippensburg five could enjoy a successful season if three of the taller candidates, Jeff Kane, Don Pugh and Sullivan, can pull down the important rebounds and show well on defense.

Kane is a six-foot, two-inch junior who saw some varsity service last year. Pugh and Sullivan are senior hoopsters who stand six feet, one-inch.

Three juniors have moved up from the junior varsity ranks to vie for a starting varsity assignment. The trio includes Larry Bard, Harry Kelso and Glen Smith.

Also drilling daily are Ron Moats, Gary Wyrick, Bill Kane, Leslie Keefer, Ron Lane, Lloyd Keller, Bob Wyrick and Bill Porter. Five of these boys are sophomores.

A glance in the sports mirror reveals that the Greyhound basketeers completed the 1957-1958 court season with a nifty 77 to 61 win over Gettysburg, as Crawford Wiestling racked-up an impressive 35-point total.

Three Stars Lost

But the tall Wiestling lad will be playing his basketball up in New York state for the strong Niagara University freshman combination this year and will be missing from the Shippensburg scene, along with Bob Freeman and Bob Michael, a pair of last year's key starters.

Other reflections from the sports mirror reveal that the Greyhounds registered conference wins over Waynesboro, Mechanicsburg, Hanover, Gettysburg (two) and Middletown, showing that they could keep up with the best on a given occasion.

This could again be the case this year, thus stamping the Greyhound aggregation as a real "darkhorse" team.

SCHUCHART SERVICES

Funeral services for Albert J. Schuchart, 60, Union Mills, Md., husband of Mrs. Edna Steward Schuchart, who died suddenly while at work with the Walter F. Crouse Construction Co., in Littlestown on Friday morning, were held today, meeting at 8 a.m. at Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown. Requiem high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. John's Catholic Church, Westminster. The Rev Fr. Edmond J. Stroup, assistant pastor, officiated. Interment was in St. Mary's Union Cemetery, Silver Run. Serving as pallbearers were Harvey Shorb, Irvin Flickinger, Orville Utz, Archie Tucker, John Kindig and Charles Snyder.

SHOOTS DEER FRIDAY

Grover Thompson, 254 E. Middle St., shot a three-point buck weighing approximately 100 pounds last Friday while hunting near Mt. Newman.

Try a dash of garlic powder in your next batch of egg salad. Different, but good.

Improvements In Schools Are Cited

INDIANA, La. (AP) — Gov. Leader's administration has made many improvements in the state school system, according to Andrew M. Bradley, state secretary of property and supplies.

In a speech Saturday at ceremonies marking the start of construction of four new buildings at the State Teachers College here, Bradley said:

"Four years ago the administration took a long, hard look at Pennsylvania's education system. Since that time three schools have been constructed or remodeled each and every week during the past four years.

"Teachers have been granted $1,000 in justly earned pay increases. Minimum starting salaries have been established for teachers. Curriculum reorganization has been started. And many other educational achievements followed the survey."

Today there are 35 U. S. colleges offering professional training courses in forestry.

The Journey To Jesus

Band Of Erudite Persian Scholars Eye Blue Heavens For The 'Promised Sign'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Down through the centuries, one of the most fascinating chapters of the immortal Christmas Story has been the journey of the Magi. But despite its appeal, most of the details of that first pilgrimage to Bethlehem have been lost in antiquity. Here is the first of five articles carefully reconstructing the inspiring story of three men who unwaveringly followed the Star on a Journey to Jesus.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

By Courtesy of the Pierpont Morgan Library

AS IMAGINED by artists of the Middle Ages, the Three Wise Men bore a striking resemblance to noblemen of Europe. This woodcut was carved to illustrate John of Hieldesheim's "Historia Trium Reguum" (The Story of the Three Kings), published in 1484.

AS HE HAD done each evening for months, Melchior climbed the circular stairs of the tower atop Mt. Vaus. He reached the roof, breathing heavily. He spread his maps on the stand and rested his arms there, gazing into the eastern quarter of the heavens.

His colleagues would be there shortly. The time cycle already had entered its penultimate phase, and they awaited a sign of its completion — the supreme "fravashi" foretold of old.

It was a spring dusk in the 31st year of the rein of the Parthian King Phraates IV in Persia (6 B.C.). For the company of Rab-Mag Melchior, nature and careful computations had combined to bring about a state of acute vigilance.

Renowned Scholars

They were Magi, the most renowned scholars of the age, members of the imperial order of priests, royal counsellors and masters of ancient, recondite sciences that would be lost to the centuries to come.

"Guide us aright, thou living god, Ahura Mazda." Melchior lifted his bearded face as the first glints flecked the sky "Oh, Thou Creator of Life, primeval Spirit, Thou Wise One, give light to us who seek Thy truth."

Excitement Built Up

For nearly a year, as modern astronomy has since conirmed, a startling sequence of celestial phenomena had unfolded before these mystic sages. By their logic, the occurrences were more than enough to arouse keen suspense.

But in addition, there are specific Biblical and historical intimations that they had even weightier information to alert the at the time Jesus was born, a year subsequently misrepresented in fixing the Gregorian calendar.

All the evidence must have obsessed the elderly Melchior (one of varying names ascribed to him by early church tradition) as he and the other Magian noblemen gathered that night on their high lookout above the clear uplands of Persia.

They wore long, white robes tied, at the waist with silken sashes. Embroidered figures of a crescent moon and the planets adorned the rims of their caps.

"Auspicious Night"

As darkness deepened, they spoke quietly but intently of the implications.

"An auspicious night." Melchior ambled about the platform, making sure each observer was at his assigned sector and had measuring dividers and bar. "Would that we could measure as well, my brothers, the visions of the inner eye."

To these authorities of the remote, mysterious "Zendavesta," most of fhich later was destroyed, knowledge came not from facts alone, but by finding in them the expression of spiritual laws — by piercing the tangible to learn the truth it signified.

They perceived a grand, Divine interlinking of all time and space, from the least particle to the cosmos. Each material appearance was relative, a mere manifestation of a basic substance all harmonized by a common, universal force.

To decipher its majestic messages, they studied the earth, water, the air — and the fiery stars.

Final Instructions

Melchoir, back at his desk, gave his associates a final reminder. "Take heed, my brothers. The finger of life oft writes in smallest script." Above the Pleiades winked and Aldebaron blazed red on the forehead of the bull.

"Tomorrow, a month hence, who can know? We have applied our subtlest mathematics, and looked long into the face of the fire. But who is man to read the hour of the Omnipotent? And yet, perchance, tonight!"

By every indication, they had available to them the cryptic, messianic time-data set down by the astounding Jewish seer, Daniel, who five centuries before held powerful sway in the courts of Persian kings.

Understood Daniel

The Magi, as the land's ancestral savants, had opportunity then to grasp the enigmatic chronology for the coming of the Great One as given by the honored foreigner, Daniel, in his seventh, eighth and twelfth books.

The overriding evidence is that this was Persia. In the original Greek, Matthew's gospel specifies the "Magi," who at the time of Jesus' birth and for centuries before were widely known as the learned priestly caste of Persia.

Matthew's original language also connotes "the Far East," and comparisons with other documents of the era show this was the common phrase used for the area of Persia, since it then was under a Parthian dynasty.

Weight Of Tradition

The weight of tradition agrees. It may be that other nationalities sometimes mentioned refer to racial backgrounds, since in the past heydey of Persian empire, their regions had been included. Some still were.

Thus, the venturesome Magi, leaving behind Persia's barren expanse of Drangiana with its salt-water lakes and yapping jackals, traveled on through the wooded foothills of the Zagros.

The caravan climbed the steep trails into the mountains on Persia's western rim, and descended into the lowlands beyond. Wild Boars, cheetahs and other carnivores infested the area, and bulbuls sang from the box trees.

The military escort was supplied as a routine to such royal entourages, even though the fratricidal King Phraates IV, dominated by an Italian concubine he called "the goddess Musa," had no taste for the mission.

Drop Escort

The squadron of helmeted archers, with their fine-limbed horses, led the column down into the plain of Appolloniatis, on past the proudly independent city of Seleucia beside the Tigris, and as far as the Euphrates bridge.

For them to go farther might have appeared warlike. The Magi and their retinue of servants likely continued from there alone. A long, hard road, of many months, lay ahead.

They tramped on. The saddles chaffed their legs; the sun burned their skin and dust caked their eyes. The trip took six months to a year, other travel logs of the period indicate.

What kind of men were these who discerned a still small voice, and pursued it across a continent?

The annals of that time tell of their knowledge and insight.

"Divinely Wise"

Philo, then an Alexandrian philosopher, said the Magi "behold the books of nature with more acute perception than usual." A contemporary Roman scholar, Apuleius, calls them "divinely wise."

The Wisdom of Solomon says the Magi "seek for God being conversant with His works." The ancient Greek geographer, Herodotus, said that in all the world's ignorance was one shining exception — the truth-loving Magi.

Many other ancient scholars, Pliny, all speak of the Magian acuity. They were official tutors of princes, Persian and Parthian alike.

Slept In Tents

But none of this explains the impetus that took them hundreds of miles, in broiling heat of day and chill of night, across the wide Syrian desert to Haleb or Tudmor, and on along the dusty highway to Damascus.

They camped at night in their black goat-hair tents, for it would not be fitting for regal personages to stop in foreign hostels, with their dancers, boxers, knife-throwers and comedians balancing underfed infants atop poles.

The brilliant star they had seen "in the east" or more specifically translated "at the rising" apparently did not guide them, for Judea lay to the west beside the Mediterranean — not to the east.

Record Lost

Part of their secret may have been in their "Zendavesta," the hoary, mystical record of which only one of 21 books survive. Or it may have been in the labyrinthine, dateless processes of the past linking their stored-up lore and monotheistic beliefs with Judaism, and its yearning for the king of kings.

Whatever the explanation, the Magi's final decision was precipitated by a star, and as Ignatius described it in the First Century, it "shone in heaven beyond all other stars . . . its light was inexpressible . . . men's ignorance was taken away."

It was in that instant, in a flare of intuition and conviction, that the Magi had known heaven had touched earth. So they traveled and on, south along the great trade route from Damascus, along the eastern shore of Galilee, across the Jericho ford over the Jordan, and to Jerusalem.

They arrived there, not with any map or preordained itinerary or directional signals, but with the burning force with which they started — the force that outruns all transient knowledge — their faith.

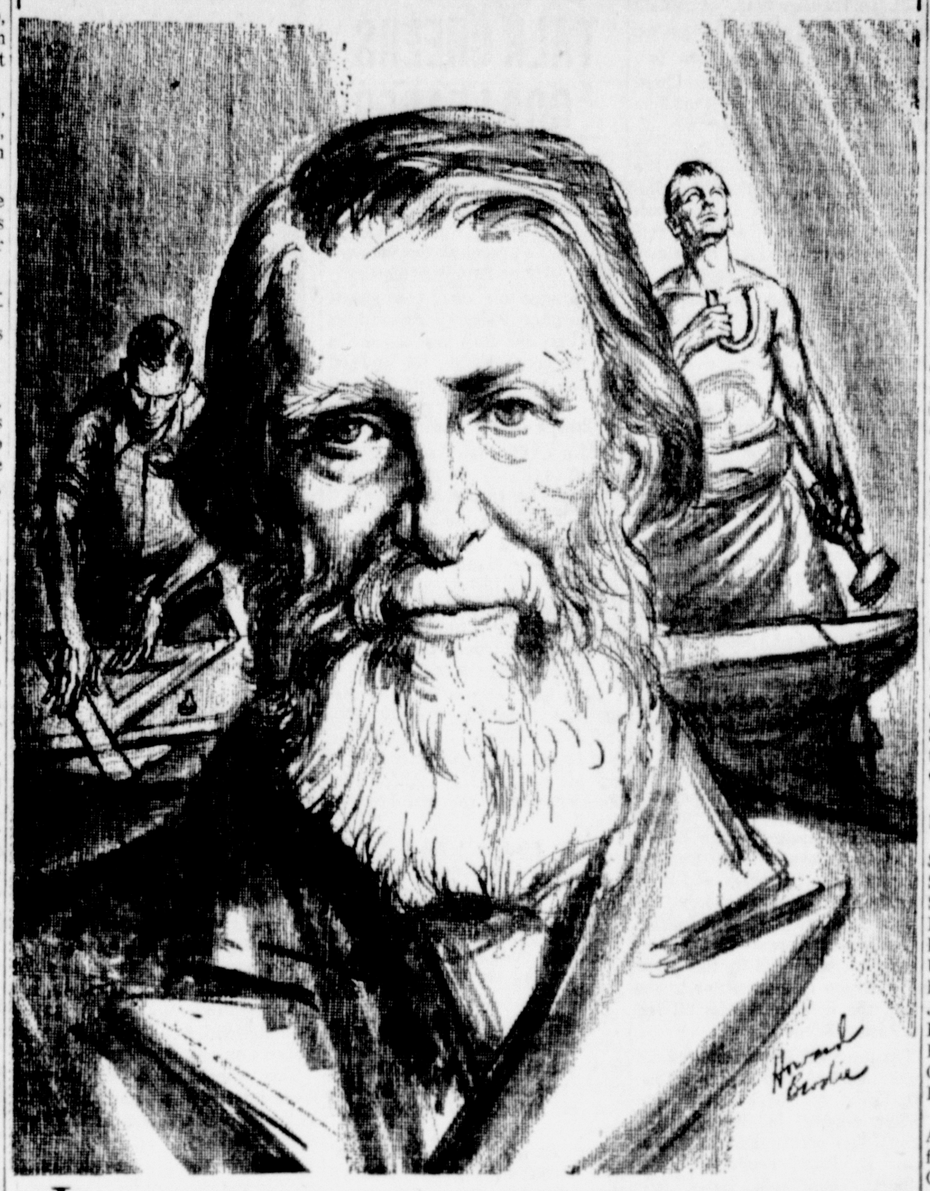
The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie



John Ruskin, the great 19th Century art critic, believed that the soul was an integral element of true art.

"A blacksmith," he wrote, "may put soul into the making of a horseshoe, and an architect may put none into the building of a church. Only exactly in proportion as the soul is thrown into it, the art becomes Fine."

One of the masters of English prose, Ruskin practiced what he preached. As a critic, he praised Gothic architecture as the product of a time of faith and virtue, denounced Renaissance architecture as souless, the product of an age of unfaithfulness and moral decay.

A noted philanthrophist, social reformer and intellectual, Ruskin said the Bible, which his family read together each day, was an essential part of his education.

SAYS NIKITA COUNTERPART OF A. HITLER

HARRISBURG (AP) —Adjutant Gen. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. today described Nikita Khrushchev as the present day counter part of Adolph Hitler.

Biddle described the Soviet Premier as the "unscrupulous" ruler of an "expansion-hungry totalitarian government."

The state adjutant general and onetime foreign diplomat, offered the criticism of the Russian leader in a paper prepared for the Assn. of the U. S. Army and published in this month's issue of the "Keystone Defender"—magazine of the State Civil Defense Council.

Some Lessons

"I have long wondered why those who encourage the thought that Khrushchev is seeking a fresh approach to disarmament and coexistence forget and overlook some important lessons of history and the real nature of the Kremlin," Biddle wrote.

"Part of their argument is that the Kremlin would welcome, just as would we, relief from the heavy burden of military costs. This may be so—at some presently unforseeable time, but only if the Soviets achieve world pre-eminence through the threat of their excessive armed strength, or through its use in battle.

Follows Mein Kampf

" . . . Our dollar economy is tied to gold, the Soviet economy, as in the case of the former Nazi regime, is an economy of totalitarian despotism, which, in effect, is tied on the back of labor, which with a gun in its kidneys, steps up its production, or else."

"In Russia today," he said, "instead of Hitler—this time it's the unscrupulous Khrushchev, who seems to have taken many a leaf from Mein Kampf (Hitler's autobiography), and, what is even worse, Kremlinized its content."

Asparagus production amounted to 7½ million dollars in New Jersey in 1957.

Every Show Stall Will Be In Use

HARRISBURG (AP) — William L. Henning, state agriculture secretary says every stall and pen will be filled for the 1959 State Farm Show which opens here Jan. 12.

Henning said all exhibit space for animals has been assigned and more than 190 applications were rejected because of lack of space. Commercial space was filled on assignment Dec. 1.

The farm show commission reported that the show would have a capacity of 1,895 head of animals including all species of livestock.

Dauphin's "Doctor Of The Year" Dies

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. David I. Miller, 80, a physician for more than half a century and a former member of the State House of Representatives, died in the hospital here Sunday.

Dr. Miller recently was named "Physician of the year" by the Dauphin County Medical Society.

He served on the staff of Polyclinic Hospital and for many years was chief of the division for eye, ear, nose and throat diseases.

The U. S. Army Infantry M1 rifle weighs 9½ pounds. The bayonet adds an extra pound.

The Red Cross certified 104,500 nurses for military service in World War II, more than four times as many as in World War I.

LAWRENCE'S TALK CHEERS GOP LEADERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Several of Pennsylvania's top Republican leaders say they are pleased with Democratic Gov.-elect David L. Lawrence's speech to the Pennsylvania Society Saturday night.

Lawrence told some 1,500 guests at the annual society dinner here that Pennsylvania has become a two - party state. He warned against a "deadly partisan civil war" that would work to the detriment of the Commonwealth.

State GOP Chairman George I. Bloom said "I hope Lawrence continues in that spirit."

Favorable Comments

Philadelphia's Republican chairman, Wilbur Hamilton, described the Lawrence talk as constructive. He added, "I think he is willing to give and take so that he can get his program through the politically divided Legislature."

State Sen. Arthur Blass, a Republican from Erie County, seconded Hamilton's statement. He said Lawrence "apparently is willing to cooperate in solving the problems facing the next Legislature."

Pleases Judges

Others in the predominantly Republican audience who expressed pleasure with Lawrence's speech were Superior Court Judges Blair Guenther and J. Colvin Wright, both elected on the Republican ticket.

Lawrence, in an interview at the society meeting, said he would seek a tough policy on driver license suspension and for legalization of radar to enforce speed laws.

The society made its annual gold medal award to J. Howard Pew, director and retired president of Sun Oil Co., for "distinguished achievement in all fields of endeavor."

ISSUE WARNING ON CIGARETTES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State warned against buying cigarettes outside Pennsylvania to evade paying the state tax.

The department reported it has increased enforcement measures during the Christmas season to discourage persons from bringing untaxed cigarettes into the state

Raymond J. Kerstetter, director of the Bureau of Investigations and Collection specifically warned employers who are planning to distribute cigarettes to workers as Christmas gifts. He said special attention will be focused on vehicles engaged in interstate commerce.

Agents have been authorized to set up periodic roadblocks at border points to make checks for cigarettes not bearing Pennsylvania's five cent tax stamp on each package, Kerstetter said.

State law prohibits the possession of more than one carton of untaxed cigarettes.

The Adams County Fruit Packing and Distributing Co., Inc., of Biglerville, was honored recently for its long service as a John Bean dealer. The company became a dealer for Bean agricultural sprayers on January 12, 1921.

A plaque was presented to Rowe M. Martin of the Biglerville firm by Coleman Buford, John Bean general sales manager. Martin is shown at right in the picture. John Bean division of food machinery and chemical corporation, Lansing, Mich., will celebrate its 75th anniversary in 1959.

PA. DEMOCRATS SEEK SEAT ON KEY COMMITTEE

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's Democratic Congressmen are ready to drive for a seat for their delegation on the Democratic House Committee on Committees.

This committee is one of the most important in lining up what amounts to the worksheet for the new Congress.

Its job is to select the new Democratic members of all the committees to be reorganized when the 86th Congress convenes in January.

Seek Committee Spots

Pennsylvania's 30 - member House delegation will include five new faces — four Democrats and one Republican. Since the Democrats control the House by a large margin. Pennsylvania's Democrats are hopeful of getting choice committee spots for their new men.

Another reason for optimism on the part of Keystone State Democrats hopeful of getting some choice committee spots is that they now have a majority of the state's representation for the first time since 1940. They have a 16-14 edge.

A good jumping off place for the Pennsylvanians to secure good berths on the standing committees would be to get a spot on the Democratic Committee on Committees.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa) pointed out that with the death last fall of Rep. Herman P. Eberharter, Pittsburgh Democrat, neither Pennsylvania nor the tri-state region of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware now is represented on the Committee on Committees.

Morgan, who is taking over as chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is in a strong position to work for another Pennsylvanian to succeed Eberharter.

The key to the situation in the Pennsylvania delegation, however, is Rep. Francis E. Walter, dean of the Keystone State Democrats and also chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Walter Is Traveling

A concerted drive by Walter, Morgan and other veteran Democrats could net a Committee on Committees spot for Pennsylvania. Walter, at present, however, is traveling.

New Pennsylvania Congressmen for whom committee spots must be found include Democrats James M. Quigley, Camp Hill; Herman Toll, Philadelphia; Stanley A. Prokop, Lake Ariel R. 3; and William S. Moorhead, Pittsburgh, and Republican William H. Milliken Jr., Sharon Hill.

Quigley, who served a previous term in 1955-56, then was a member of the House Judiciary Committee. If re-assigned there he would not retain any seniority.

Lands Plane On Highway Sunday

PARSIPPANY - TROY HILLS, N. J. (AP)—A Pennsylvania pilot landed his single engine plane on the new extension of Rt. 202 Sunday without a hitch.

Richard Harmon, 28, of Palmyra, Pa., said he had run out of gas while flying with his brother, David, on a training flight from Mallard, Pa., to Morristown Air port. There was no traffic on the highway at the time.

ASKS PASSIVE RESISTANCE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A Negro minister defied police warnings Sunday and urged Negroes to boycott segregated Birmingham buses.

The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth told his congregation: "You sin when you yield to the bus company's sin of segregation. I call upon you to use passive resistance to defeat this evil.'

He was one of 20 Negro ministers who had said they would use their Sunday sermons to denounce Birmingham's bus segregation law. Apparently most of them used some variation of this topic.

No one was arrested although Police Commissioner Eugene Conner warned recently that anyone, "white or black," leading an attempt to boycott Birmingham buses would be jailed.

Shuttlesworth was recently convicted of violating the city's bus seating law and sentenced to 90 days in jail and a $100 fine. He has filed an appeal Twelve other Negroes also were convicted and received suspended sentences.

HUNTERS FACE SNOW AND COLD

HARRISBURG (AP) — Cold weather and snow greeted hunters in many parts of Pennsylvania today as the special three - day antlerless deer season opened.

Some 340,000 hunters were licensed.

The State Game Commission said that kills during the regular buck season dropped off slightly from last year. The season closed a two-week run Saturday.

The commission said there was ample game in the state but that fewer hunters participated.

Of the 350,000 special antlerless deer hunting permits made available, the commission said about 7,000 were not taken.

Most of the permits available were in Allegheny, Chester, Crawford, Delaware, Erie, Fulton, Greene, Lawrence, Montour and Susquehanna counties.

NEW IRON LUNG AIDS PATIENTS

An iron lung that keeps time with the patient's breathing is helping sufferers from a respiratory disease in a Boston hospital.

The apparatus, adapted from an iron lung of the type used by polio victims, is being used by a young doctor who is studying the treatment of pulmonary emphysema with the aid of a Christmas Seal medical research grant from the National Tuberculosis Association and its medical section, the American Trudeau Society. He is Dr. John Mason Tyler, director of the pulmonary laboratory of Lemuel Shattuck Hospital.

Emphysema is a lung disease of unknown origin which, in advanced cases, affects a large part of the lung and makes it hard for the patient to breathe. No cure is known for it, but some mechanical devices give the patient temporary relief in forcing out of the lung air that has been "caught" in the air sacs and cannot be expelled naturally by the patient except with great difficulty. The majority of the patients are men over 50 years of age.

The patient-cycled respirator being used for seriously ill emphysema patients is designed to respond to a signal from a gauge placed around the patient's chest. The apparatus is then regulated to function with the normal cycle of intake and expiration of air into and out of the lungs.

An advantage of the respirator, according to Dr. Tyler, is that it can be adjusted to both the timing and depth of the individual patient's breathing. "This respirator is not a 'cure' for emphysema," Dr. Tyler said, "nor are we thinking of its use for a long period of time with any one patient. We do believe that it may serve to tide a patient over an acute period."

MRS. HENRY DIES

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — The mother of State Police Commissioner Col. Earl J. Henry, Mrs. Elizabeth L. F. Henry, died Sunday at her home here. The 83-year-old woman had been ill for a long time.

A 15-foot high cast iron gate taken from the entrance to a Paris subway station is one of the exhibits at New York's Museum of Modern Art. It was made about 1900 and is considered a work of art.

UTAH'S CANYONS OF COLOR — Magic Circle Area of the Week:

(By EDWARD COLLIER)

Mother Nature's capricious redhead — Utah's color canyon country — flaunts herself in a way no one ever forgets.

There are six major highway entrances to the Magic Circles of this flaming, vivid land. We chose Kanab, cosmopolitan little town where more color movies have been shot on location than any other spot in America.

Side roads beckon from the canyons that split the Vermillion Cliffs back of Kanab. Our first trip out of town was over the newly completed strip of black velvet (State 259) that, in an easy hour and a half, covers the 80 miles to Glen Canyon Dam. Like an arrow shot into the wind, it pierces a world where gray-green sage and black-green junipers grow from the red soil. This is the country of which Zane Grey wrote so lovingly in "Last of the Plainsmen" and "Riders of the Purple Sage."

Excitement Ahead

There is excitement at the end of the road where observation points have been built so that you can watch the daring construction work from high above the gorge of the Colorado River. The highway bridge is scheduled for completion in 1959; the dam in five or six years.

Eight miles before getting back into Kanab, there is a pale pink side road (State 136) that leads to make-believe land. First you spot Eagle Gate Arch, a curious red and tan monolith formation with a huge window-opening. For close-up photos, it's only a quarter-mile hike.

But you really rub your eyes a few miles later. Visible from the road is a complete but deserted pioneer-day town which fits into the rugged natural background. First of the authentic rough board structures were built as a set for "Westward the Women" a few years ago; since then other movie companies have continued to add onto it for Western epics until it has become a showplace. The owner of the ranch on which it is located charges no admission.

We left Kanab early in the morning, while the air was still cool, for another Magic Circle trip starting in a never-never land, seldom seen by tourist eyes. Sixteen miles north of Kanab you turn off the highway (U.S. 89) at a small sign which says "Sand Dunes." This graveled, well-graded road, which does not show on Utah's beautiful travel map, runs for 10 miles through heavy sage, clumps of juniper and a few patches of orange colored dirt. Jack rabbits, looking almost big enough for a saddle, dash across theh road.

Color Movie Mecca

Then, without warning, you round a corner for a spectacle that only Aladdin could have conjured from his lamp — the Coral Pink Sand Dunes. The sugar-fine sand extends in hills, dunes, drifted swirls and valleys until it runs into distant but violently contrasting red cliffs, dotted with evergreens. As the sun climbs higher the rose sand takes on a bright orange hue.

The only vegetation is occasional clumps of three-foot high wildflowers, unlike anything I have seen elsewhere. Shaped like big daisies, but with two extra petals on each yellow blossom, they grow on bright green bushes and have the appearance of rare cultivated flowers that would need daily watering.

Movie scouts know about this glamorous freak of nature, too. Several years ago an Arabian Nights fantasy was filmed here; in recent months Hollywood used it as the locale for a story about Timbuktu. But their tents have folded, and not a trace of man remains after you have walked a hundred yards into the dunes.

Historic Mormon Fort

South from the Sand Dunes, the numberless road joins State 59 from Hurricane, the better-known route to Pipe Springs National Monument. This historic Mormon fort, just across the Arizona border and in the Kaibab Indian Reservation, is like an oasis in the arid land. Tall shade trees, two large mirror-like pools of water and red cliffs in the background form the setting for the two well preserved pink sandstone buildings which face each other across an enclosed courtyard.

The original firing platform spans the west wall of the yard, above massive wooden gates. Some of the old loopholes are still visible, but the most intriguing feature is that, as a precaution against Indian attack and siege, the north structure was built over the spring, with the water running out under the south building. The fort was completed in 1870 at the direction of Brigham Young, president of the Mormon Church and governor of the Deseret Territory.

Wide Color Panorama

In contrast to the first two Magic Circle trips, the third covers two of America's most famed and beautiful national parks. From Mt. Carmel Junction, the windshield of your automobile becomes a constantly changing wide screen color panorama for the 25 miles (State 15) into Zion National Park. The pavement is so smooth that we shot good movies from a tripod in the car — stopping, of course, for color snapshots of such curiosities as Checkerboard Mesa, a buff-hued butte criss-crossed by deeply etched lines and with a terra cotta border.

Once past the Great Arch, the next visual thrills are views of Zion Canyon and the mighty battlements from the windows of the highway tunnel. You know the meaning of the majesty of nature when you reach the flat floor of the canyon and stand, a tiny human being, looking up at the sheer multicolored walls — the "towering temples of stone" as they were described by the Mormon pioneers, who named this region "Zion," meaning "the heavenly city of God."

This was my fifth visit to Zion and yet still new, still awesome, is the Great White Throne, Utah's most famed landmark. This mauve, gray and white giant stands aloof, framed by contrasting red peaks.

A Rewarding Stop

Circling west and north out of the park, there is a rewarding stop on U.S. 91, some 19 miles before reaching Cedar City. Only a tiny sign indicates a foot-pathh entrance to Kolob Canyon. Starting up Taylor Creek, an uninteresting looking gulch, you are hardly prepared for the wild, hidden valley that opens suddenly after the two-mile hike. Although made a part of Zion National Park by Congress last year, it is known to hit few Utahans.

The yellow and crimson walls give Kolob Canyon such protection that the leaves do not begin to turn gold until late November, when winter already has come to the "outside." An old-timer told us the name was derived from an Indian word meaning "next to the seat of God."

Novel Canyon

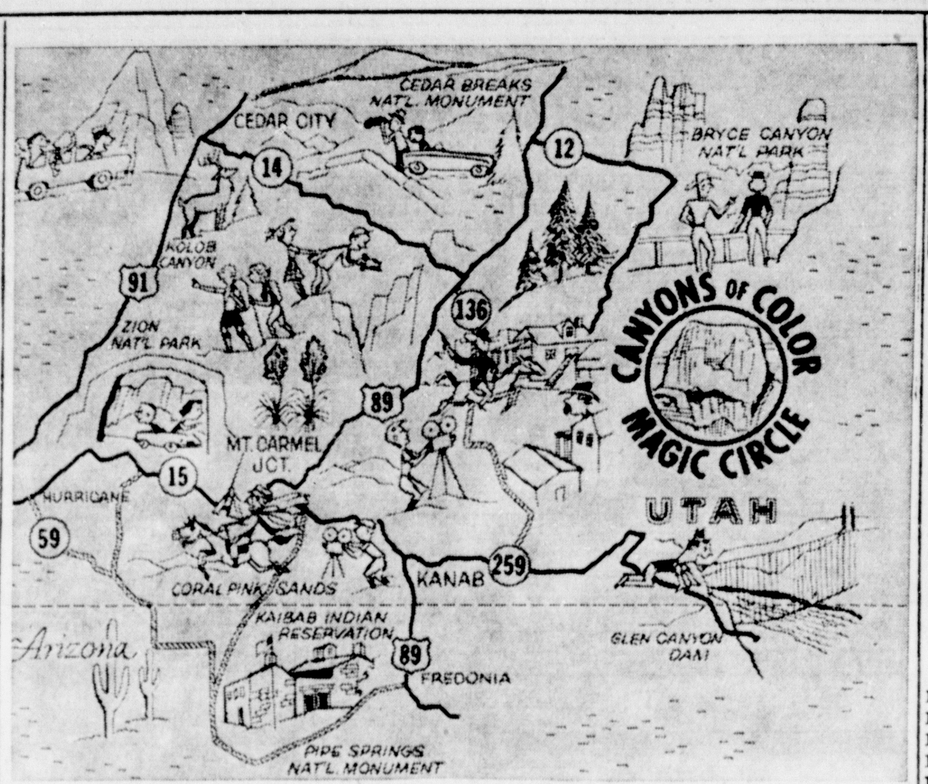
From pleasant and prosperous Cedar City, the Magic Circle curves east (State 14) up a beautiful new highway through Cedar Canyon, whose majestic cream-colored walls are a novelty in rainbow tinted southern Utah. The destination is Cedar Breaks National Monument, 10,457 feet high in Dixie National Forest. The last few miles are through mountain meadows alive with purple-blue larkspur, Indian paintbrush and lavender daisies with yellow faces.

Like so much of this land of surprises, you are not ready for the shock that comes a hundred feet from the museum and ranger headquarters, tucked neatly into a forest grove. Plunging down abruptly is a fantastic amphitheater-type gorge that looks as if the earth had been gashed open and was bleeding. Some 47 colors, with reds predominating, are in this abyss of eroded spires and formations. At the bottom is a deep crevass of almost eternal snow.

Final objective is Bryce Canyon National Park, a fairyland of delicate and blended colors that lets your imagination run riot. There are minarets, castles, silent cities, natural bridges and mummers — the magnificent formations do not look the same to any two persons. And instead of the sandstone so prevalent in other parts of Utah's color country, the rock here often seems as soft as chalk.

There are excellent foot and horseback trails down into the shallow canyon, as well as a 16-mile drive along the rim. Sunset brings out the more vivid colors, starting with sugar-white at the tops of the pinnacles, on down through yellows to rose and red. And no one is ever too old to gasp at a first view of this wonderland of color under a full moon.

Canada was ceded to England in 1762. But, the French stayed there.



Flaming and vivid are the Canyons of Colors in southern Utah. Three Magic Circle tours out of Kanab, Utah, include a visit ot Glen Canyon to see a dam-in-the-making, and then a ranch where a pioneer-day town has been constructed as a "location" for western movies. Another circle trip includes the little-known but fabulous Coral Pink Dunes and Pipe Springs National Monument, a historic Mormon fort. The third Magic Circle includes spectacular Zion National Park, hidden Kolob Canyon, Cedar Breaks National Monument and its fantastic gorge; and Bryce Canyon National Park, a fairyland of color and magnificent rock formations.

HALL OF FAME XMAS SHOW IS GIVEN PRAISE

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Christmas Tree" cast a delightful seasonal glow over the home audience on NBC-TV Sunday night.

Although it might be asking too much of a single television program, it appeared that the Hallmark Hall of Fame production should have converted a Scrooge or two to the idea that there really is a Christmas spirit.

Helen Deutsch created a charming pastiche from the tinsel, baubles, dreams and religious significance of the season. It was a show that was greatly enhanced if one saw it in color.

Read The Story

The star at the top of "The Christmas Tree" was Maurice Evans reading the story of the Nativity while theh camera studied a series of details from great paintings of the past.

On another branch of the tree was the thoroughly enjoyable clowning of Carol Channing and Cyril Ritchard on skates. Tom Poston and Hiram Sherman were zestfully aseptic in a sketch that inevitably ended on the sentimental note of the season.

This colorful Mildred Freed Alberg production directed by Kirk Browning was altogether successful in its aim of offering something to everyone in the way of an entertainment gift. A little of the holiday spirit must have rubbed off on all viewers.

Star Tonight

Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano Mildred Miller, who will appear tonight on "Voice of Firestone" (ABCTV,) has made her most memorable appearances at the Metropolitan playing boys' roles. In fact, one year all but one of her roles were that of a boy.

That year, she said the other day, she returned home after appearing in a boy's role and destroyed all of her slacks in angry frustration.

"It's so much more feminine to play the part of a woman," said the attractively feminine Miss Miller.

Her most complicated role has been that of Octavian in "der Rosenkavalier." In most of that opera she plays the part of a boy, but in one act she plays a boy dressed up as a girl trying to look like a boy.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — There must be a Kremlin clock that rings every year just before the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic military alliance meet in Paris. It's beginning to ring regularly.

You can see the pattern. Bong, the clock goes. Premier Nikita Khrushchev jumps up and tells the boys in charge of the propaganda section: "Start pumping." It happened last year. Nor it's happened again.

Last year Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was all set to fly to Paris for the NATO meeting. Then, two days before Dulles' takeoff, the Russians threw out what they must have thought a blockbuster.

Letter To Ike

In a 3,000-word letter to President Eisenhower the then Premier Nikolai Bulganin — with Khrushchev at his side—proposed a summit meeting and a ban on atomic bomb tests.

There was nothing new in it—in the way of fresh ideas—and State Department officials branded it a propaganda trick intended to disturb and maybe split the Allies before they met in Paris.

Thursday the Kremlin clock rang again, this time just a day before Dulles' scheduled takeoff for the NATO meeting in Paris Sunday.

This time the Russians tried a one-two-three punch with Khrushchev, Moscow radio and Tass, the official Soviet news agency, all grabbing the pump handle.

New Red Demand

The biggest and most critical problem facing the foreign ministers in Paris is the demand made by Khrushchev that the United States, Britain and France all clear their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city.

The Western powers — particularly the United States and Britain—have indicated they'll do no such thing. The United States, Britain and France, under agreements made with the Russians after World War II, have troops in West Berlin.

But Berlin is 110 miles within Eastern Germany. For the Western powers to pull out would leave all Berlin, including the West Germans who have built up their sector, at the mercy of the East German Communists. The Soviet Union proposed to turn over to the East Germans control of the corridors through which the Western powers now have access to Berlin.

"Ugly Suggestions"

The West German government wants the Allies not to yield to the Soviet pressure. But the Russians since Nov. 10 have made ugly suggestions indicating they are in for a rough time if they don't pull out.

So Thursday, one day before Dulles was to fly to Paris, Tass opened up in a move clearly intended to disturb the Western foreign ministers when they meet Sunday in Paris and again, if possible, to split them

Tass accused the West of stalling on Khrushchev's proposal about neutralizing West Berlin. It repeated that use of force in defense of the Western sectors of Berlin would be met with force by the Soviet-led Warsaw Alliance.

Must Change Situation

Radio Moscow chimed in with the statement that the "situation in West Berlin will have to be changed."

And Khrushchev — now indisputably the Soviet Union's No. 1 man since Bulganin has been pushed so far out of sight no one hears of him much any more—let go on his own.

He was quoted in an interview by a German newspaper in Munich as giving this warning:

If the West attempted to break through East German territory to Berlin by force, to supply their Berlin garrisons, there would be war and the use of the Soviet Union's most powerful weapons.

The trouble with the Kremlin clock is that its timing is getting obvious.

"The Doggery," as they call it, is the idea of enterprising Dick Grossman, 32, a nearby San Fernando Valley movie exhibitor, and his wife Enid, 30.

"Six months ago we were playing bridge with frieds and talking dogs as we usually do," said Dick. "I said, 'Why isn't there a fine shop for dogs, where dogs are catered to the way people are catered to?"

He looked around five months, then chose a prominent location in this home of movie stars and other well-to-do dog lovers.

The shop offers dog cologne, hair bows, English hair brushes, chrome-plated combs and dog portrait photography. A sterilized whelping box for an expectant mother dog can be rented.

"We'll even cater dogs' birthday parties," Grossman said. "We'll provide a hamburger cake decorated with dog biscuits and dog candy, and napkins, cups and so forth. The price will depend on how many dogs are invited."
